- Collect and review other sources of information. These may include:
  - Compliance check data (from law enforcement)
  - Arrests related to ATOD use (from law enforcement)
  - Hospital admissions related to ATOD use (from local hospitals or public health agencies)
  - Alcohol or drug related crashes, injuries, and deaths (from state department of public safety)
  - School/student surveys

- Hold meetings and/or conduct interviews with community leaders to discuss the results of the Community Readiness Survey.

- Hold town meetings or public forums with community members. Present and discuss the results with them. You can also do this in sector-specific settings, eg. with the faith community
